SUMMARY

Landmark Design presented an outline of the meeting format for the public workshop on February 20th. The activities began with the committee helping narrow down the list of potential Guiding Principles for the plan. The activity with the Guiding Principles will be different – it will focus on the top four Guiding Principles land use and park and open space, and will be more of a visually based activity. The other activities included discussions on land use categories; mapping exercises for residential land uses, commercial/industrial land uses, and parks, trails and open space; and concluded with discussions on open space acquisition tools and funding options.

The planning team will be making adjustments to the format of the meeting based on feedback of the committee, and will meet with staff in the interim, if necessary, to confirm the format.
